Is this your story?

"Every morning I have a bad taste in my mouth; my tongue is coated; my head aches and I often feel dizzy. I have no appetite for breakfast, and what food I eat distresses me. I have a heavy feeling in my stomach. I am getting so weak that sometimes I tremble. My nerves are all unstrung. I am as tired in the morning as at night."

What is the trouble with you? Impure blood. What is the remedy?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
SOLD FOR 60 YEARS

It makes the blood pure and rich. The digestion improves; the nerves become strong and steady. Consult your doctor about this medicine. Do not take any medicine doctors will not endorse.

If your liver is sluggish and your bowels constipated, correct at once. Ayer's Pills are best pills. They act directly on the liver. The dose is one pill just once. All vegetable, sugar-coated.

FOUND BY A MICROSCOPE

The curability of Bright's Disease is not a matter of opinion but a fact in Nature. One factor in determining it is the microscope.

Cast is a fleck of kidney tissue that flows from the degenerating kidneys in Bright's Disease. They can only be found by a microscope. If an agent has been evolved that counteracts renal degeneration then the casts must gradually disappear. That Fulton's Renal Compound gets these results can be proven by any scientist who cares to take the time.

It is a mild infusion and can be taken by a child. The usual heart and eliminative treatment given to sustain patients down with Bright's Disease can be taken with it if necessary. There is no conflict. Recoveries have been reported in thousands of cases.

If our ideas are high and if only a half or a third of the 90,000 annually dying from this disease can live on in comfort to other terminations who can estimate the value of this Compound to humanity?

You have Bright's Disease, you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up.

LIGHTNING COOKED BEANS ON VINE

[By Latest Mail]
WASHINGTON.—Beans, large and juicy, of the lima variety, cooked with a delicacy that would suit the palate of an epicure, are being gathered straight from the vine at a truck garden near Washington.

William Williams possesses at Latham, Md., a garden containing this "cooked bean vine." How the growing beans came to be cooked is thus related by Williams, so help him:

He was afraid that the vines might be destroyed by storms if he allowed them to climb on ordinary poles. He had planted several rows, each about a city square in length, and to guard against the blowing down of the poles, he stretched wire between them. Lightning struck the wires, and cooked the beans. Williams and his family do the rest.

WOMEN AVOID SOCIETY

They are reluctant to make the least effort when suffering from dizziness, backache, headache, nervousness, the blues, that bearing down pain or a displacement. Yet they would like to be well. Why continue to suffer when thousands of American women are living testimonials of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished in overcoming all such troubles and restoring glorious health?—advertisement.

REFUGEES FLEE TO DAI NIPPON

Represented by hundreds, Chinese of high financial position in the new Republic, are fleeing the country, casting sailing from Hongkong and Shanghai being crowded with refugees numbered among the business and professional class, who have decided upon Japan as a temporary residence, until such time as the revolution and rebellion prevailing in the country are over.

Officers in the Pacific Mail steamers Nhe and Mongolia that recently passed through Honolulu stated that their respective liners were boarded by a host of the wealthy Chinese bent on leaving the country during the reign of riot and pillage. With the arrival of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamer Nippon Maru it was learned that Chinese are continuing to flock into the Japanese ports and are fast dispersing to the mountain resorts there to escape the heat of the summer season.

Captain's 15,000 Miles Voyage.
After navigating his ship for 15,000 miles to Queenstown without the aid of a single officer, Captain Charles Charlton brought his ship into harbor recently (says a London Journal), a Liverpool boat, the Harold, of 1299 tons, wheat-laden. The voyage from Australia occupied 108 days. Captain Charlton endeavored to get officers for his ship at Adelaide, Melbourne, and Sydney, but without avail, and he had no alternative but to set out on his voyage with a crew none of whom knew anything of navigation. He went for stretches of six weeks without removing his clothes, and slept on the poop of the ship on a cabin chair. His crew, with the exception of two, were foreigners.

LUMBER RATES HAVE TUMBLED

With but a very few sailing vessels at present under charter to bring lumber from Puget Sound and Columbia River ports to the Hawaiian Islands, all indications point to a decided slump in freight rates and charters, according to estimates now received here.

While charters made several months ago will keep a fairly large fleet of carriers busy from the North Pacific for some time to come, it is stated that the newer rates proposed are considerably lower. With but few exceptions, the British tramp steamships which have been discharged of coal at Honolulu or Pearl Harbor, have been chartered to load lumber at the Pacific Coast for the Antipodes or South Africa.

Coast lumber men declare that the bottom has practically dropped out of the lumber market and that charters are few. In the rail trade lumber has also slumped sharply and prices are some $3 lower than a few months ago. Fluctuations in charter rates during the past few months are a good reflection of the market conditions. That the cargo business from Puget Sound has been much lighter during the present summer than it was in 1912 is shown in a comparison of the custom records of shipments in the foreign trade. For July of this year the shipments totaled 41,426,000 feet for the district of Washington, as compared with 48,578,000 feet in July of 1912. The first seven months of 1913 show a total of 247,931,000 feet, as compared with 372,551,000 feet for the corresponding period of last year.
